Participants: 24 (Teaching and non-Teaching Staff of Arts Commerce College, Yeoda, Tq. Daryapur, Dist. Amravati)

Place: Gram Retakheda, Tq. Chikhaldara, Dist. Amravati

On the 3rd of November 2018, the Arts Commerce College in Yeoda, Tq. Daryapur, Dist. Amravati, organized a heartwarming Diwali Celebration with the tribal community in Gram Retakheda, Tq. Chikhaldara, Dist. Amravati. The event aimed to foster a sense of community and spread the festive joy beyond the college walls.

The participants included 24 individuals comprising teaching and non-teaching staff from the college. The focus of the celebration was on giving back to the tribal community through donations of blankets and complimentary sweet food, aligning with the spirit of Diwali, the festival of lights and sharing.

The initiative not only brought the college staff together but also created a bridge between the academic institution and the tribal community. It showcased the importance of community engagement and emphasized the significance of sharing festivities with those in need.

By choosing Gram Retakheda as the venue, the college demonstrated its commitment to reaching out to marginalized communities, contributing to their well-being, and spreading the joy of Diwali in a meaningful and inclusive manner. This initiative reflected the college's dedication to social responsibility and building connections beyond academic boundaries.

CULTURAL AWARENESS PROGRAM

(Battle against Superstition by singing folk Song)

Artist: Rizwan Patel (Blind by Birth)

Date: 23 January 2019

Number of Students: 40

Venue: Arts Commerce College, Yeoda

On January 23rd, 2019, the college hosted a Cultural Awareness Program that creatively tackled the battle against superstition through the medium of singing folk songs. The event featured the talented artist Rizwan Patel, who, despite being blind by birth, used his musical prowess to convey a powerful message.

With the participation of 40 students, the program aimed to raise awareness about the harmful impact of superstitions on society. Rizwan Patel, through his soulful renditions of folk songs, conveyed messages that encouraged critical thinking and dispelled irrational beliefs.

The choice of the college as the venue ensured that students could actively engage with the cultural awareness initiative. Rizwan Patel's personal story added a poignant layer to the program, showcasing the power of art and determination in overcoming challenges.

The objectives of the program were not only to entertain but also to inspire and educate, fostering a cultural and social responsibility among the student community. By utilizing folk songs and the unique perspective of an artist, the college aimed to encourage dialogue and reflection on the societal implications of superstitions, promoting a more informed and rational approach to cultural practices.

The Rangoli Decoration Program, organized by the Department of Cultural Affairs at Arts Commerce College, Yeoda, on 3rd February 2020, aimed to showcase the artistic talents of students and promote the traditional Indian art form of rangoli. Rangoli, a form of decorative art using colored powders, rice, and flower petals, holds cultural significance and is often associated with festivals and auspicious occasions.

Event Overview:

The program provided students with an opportunity to explore their creativity and artistic skills through the intricate and vibrant designs of rangoli. Participants were encouraged to express their imagination, cultural sensibilities, and attention to detail in crafting visually appealing rangoli patterns.

Key Highlights:

- Theme Diversity: Participants were given the freedom to choose their themes, resulting in a diverse range of rangoli designs. Traditional motifs, religious symbols, and nature-inspired patterns adorned the college premises, reflecting the rich cultural tapestry.
- Individual and Team Efforts: The event allowed both individual and group participation. Students collaborated in teams to create larger and more elaborate rangoli designs, fostering teamwork and camaraderie among participants.
- Judging and Appreciation: A panel of judges, well-versed in the art of rangoli, assessed the creations based on creativity, symmetry, use of colors, and overall visual impact. Participants were appreciated for their efforts, and the winning entries were acknowledged.

Conclusion:

- The Rangoli Decoration Program at Arts Commerce College, Yeoda, not only celebrated the artistic talents of the students but also promoted cultural expression and appreciation. The event added vibrancy and a festive spirit to the college atmosphere, showcasing the beauty of Indian art and traditions.
- As an annual tradition, the Rangoli Decoration Program contributes to the cultural enrichment of the college and provides a platform for students to engage with traditional art forms. The Department of Cultural Affairs remains committed to organizing events that celebrate creativity, cultural diversity, and the rich heritage of India.

TREE RAKSHA-BANDHAN

Date: 11/08/2022

Participant: 14 Students

Organizer: Cultural Committee

Venue: Arts Commerce College, Yeoda

Introduction:

On 11th August 2022, the Cultural Committee at Arts Commerce College, Yeoda, organized a unique and environmentally focused event titled "Tree Raksha-Bandhan." The initiative aimed to foster a sense of responsibility and care for the environment among the students.

Event Overview:

The concept of Tree Raksha-Bandhan draws inspiration from the traditional Hindu festival of Raksha-Bandhan, where a protective thread is tied as a symbol of love and commitment. In the environmental context, this event encouraged students to express their commitment to the well-being of trees and the environment.

Key Highlights:

- Tree Planting Ceremony: The event commenced with a symbolic tree planting ceremony. Students actively participated in planting saplings around the college premises, signifying their commitment to the environment's well-being.
- Raksha-Bandhan Ritual: Following the tree planting, students tied eco-friendly threads around the trees, symbolizing a bond of protection and care. This ritual served as a visual representation of the students' pledge to nurture and safeguard the planted trees.
- Environmental Awareness: The event included discussions and talks on the significance of trees in maintaining ecological balance, providing oxygen, and combating climate change. Students gained insights into the role of individuals in environmental conservation.
- Commitment Pledges: Each participant was encouraged to make a personal commitment to sustainable practices and share their pledges for contributing to a greener and healthier planet.

Conclusion:

- "Tree Raksha-Bandhan" was a thoughtful initiative by the Cultural Committee, blending tradition with environmental consciousness. The event not only contributed to the green cover of the college but also heightened awareness about the essential role trees play in our ecosystem.
- The success of this event reflects the college's dedication to promoting eco-friendly practices and instilling a sense of environmental responsibility among its students. The Cultural Committee remains committed to organizing events that foster a deeper connection between students and the environment.

On the occasion of Savitribai Phule Jayanti, Arts Commerce College, Yeoda, organized a unique and culturally enriching event to pay tribute to the pioneering social reformer and educationist Savitribai Phule. The event aimed to celebrate her legacy by encouraging students to embody the spirit of Savitribai Phule through traditional attire.

Event Overview:

The celebration of Savitribai Phule Jayanti involved students donning costumes inspired by the attire worn by Savitribai Phule during her time. The event sought to bring awareness about Savitribai's significant contributions to women's education and her role in challenging societal norms.

Key Highlights:

- Traditional Attire: Participants enthusiastically embraced the theme by dressing in traditional attire reminiscent of the clothing worn by Savitribai Phule. This included sarees, accessories, and hairstyles characteristic of the 19th century.
- Savitribai's Contribution: The event included discussions and presentations highlighting Savitribai Phule's groundbreaking contributions to education and her unwavering dedication to promoting the rights of women and oppressed sections of society.
- Cultural Performances: The Cultural Committee organized cultural performances, including dances, songs, and skits, reflecting the cultural ethos of Savitribai Phule's era. These performances aimed to capture the essence of her progressive ideals.
- Empowerment Messages: Students shared messages and thoughts on women's empowerment, education, and social equality inspired by Savitribai Phule's vision. These reflections aimed to emphasize the continued relevance of her teachings in contemporary society.

Conclusion:

- The Savitribai Phule Jayanti celebration at Arts Commerce College, Yeoda, successfully captured the spirit of this visionary leader. Through traditional attire, discussions, and cultural performances, the event not only paid homage to Savitribai Phule but also inspired students to reflect on the principles she stood for.
- The Cultural Committee's efforts to organize such events contribute to fostering a sense of cultural pride and awareness of social issues among the student community. The celebration served as a meaningful tribute to Savitribai Phule's enduring legacy and her instrumental role in shaping the trajectory of education and social reform in India.

DINDI YATRA

(Religious Musical Street Play)

Date: 12/02/2023

Participant: 20 Students

Organizer: N.S.S.

Venue: Gram Yeoda

Introduction:

Dindi Yatra, a religious musical street play, was organized by the National Service Scheme (N.S.S.) at Arts Commerce College, Yeoda. The event aimed to instill a sense of spirituality, cultural appreciation, and community engagement among the participating students.

Event Overview:

Dindi Yatra is a traditional and devotional procession that involves singing, dancing, and storytelling, often centered around religious and cultural themes. The N.S.S. organized this event as a means to connect students with the rich cultural and religious heritage of the region.

Key Highlights:

- Religious Street Play: The heart of the event was a captivating street play with religious and devotional themes. Students enacted scenes from religious scriptures through music, dance, and theatrical performances, creating a vibrant and spiritually charged atmosphere.
- Traditional Costumes: Participants adorned traditional costumes appropriate to the theme, enhancing the visual appeal of the event. The costumes were carefully selected to reflect the cultural essence of the religious narratives presented during the street play.
- Musical Performances: The procession featured live musical performances, including devotional songs and traditional tunes, adding a melodic and rhythmic dimension to the overall experience. The music complemented the religious storytelling, creating a harmonious and immersive environment.
- Community Engagement: The event took place in Gram Yeoda, involving local residents and fostering a sense of community engagement. The N.S.S. aimed to bridge the gap between the academic institution and the local community by bringing the cultural celebration to the village.

Conclusion:

- The Dindi Yatra organized by the N.S.S. at Arts Commerce College, Yeoda, was a successful blend of spirituality, culture, and community involvement. The event provided a platform for students to showcase their artistic talents, immerse themselves in cultural traditions, and connect with the local community.
- Through events like Dindi Yatra, the college continues to contribute to the holistic development of students, nurturing an appreciation for cultural diversity and community values. The success of this event underscores the significance of integrating cultural and religious experiences into the academic journey, promoting a well-rounded and enriching educational environment.
