POLICY DOCUMENT

INTERNAL EVALUATION PROCEDURE

Introduction:

Internal assessment constitutes a methodical approach to ascertaining the degree to which students have attained academic objectives. Evaluation, transcending mere observation, embodies an objective and systematic process. This process is instrumental in gauging students' progress, allowing educators to monitor advancements and promptly institute corrective measures if students are deviating from predetermined objectives. Evaluation further serves as a valuable tool for assessing the efficacy of teaching methodologies, classroom dynamics, and the tools employed in the pedagogical process. Periodic disclosure of students' progress to parents is imperative, facilitating an understanding of their wards' developmental trajectory.

Objectives:

1. Adherence to the internal assessment procedures in alignment with SGBA University norms.
2. Implementation of Unit Tests, Common Tests, Seminars, Group Discussions, etc., as part of the assessment strategy.
3. Systematic record-keeping of internal evaluation data.
4. Guidance and support for students to enhance their performance in Internal University Examinations.
5. Continuous monitoring of student progress through the Internal Evaluation process.
6. Maintenance of transparency throughout the Internal Evaluation process.

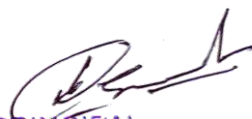

Procedure:

The Internal Evaluation Committee devises an examination schedule in accordance with the university's academic calendar. Aligning with the university syllabus, the committee meticulously plans internal evaluation processes, conducts examinations as scheduled, and publicly communicates results. The college, committed to transparency, entrusts its Examination Committee with the effective implementation of all examination and assessment processes. Formative assessment, rooted in attendance, assignments, tests, seminars, group discussions, short quizzes, and project work, is complemented by field visits. An induction program acquaints freshmen with the academic calendar, activity plan, and the teaching, learning, and evaluation mechanisms of the college. Department-wise examination timetables are meticulously formulated at the semester's onset, ensuring clarity for students. Frequent open-book tests are conducted, providing students with opportunities for self-assessment. The Examination Committee upholds confidentiality in question paper setting and evaluation, disseminating any modifications or changes promptly to all stakeholders. Detailed information about examinations and evaluation criteria is communicated to students and parents. A redressal mechanism is in place for aggrieved students, allowing them to approach faculty, Heads of Departments (HODs), and the principal for grievance resolution.

Feedback Mechanism:

To ensure transparency, a feedback mechanism is integrated into the internal assessment results. This mechanism comprises a Student Satisfaction Survey, feedback on Institutional Performance from all stakeholders, and individual interactions with students in classrooms.
